What is 凪 NAGI? Japanese traditional glaze with muted tones

In Japanese, " 凪 NAGI" means a calm sea without wind or waves. NAGI BORDER is a tile with calm atmosphere and muted tones as its name suggests. The shades of color produced by random chance in the kiln, using our most popular "Yohen Glaze," give the impression of the quiet waves.

Combining rustic nostalgia and modernity, NAGI BORDER is a tile that can be easily matched to any space.

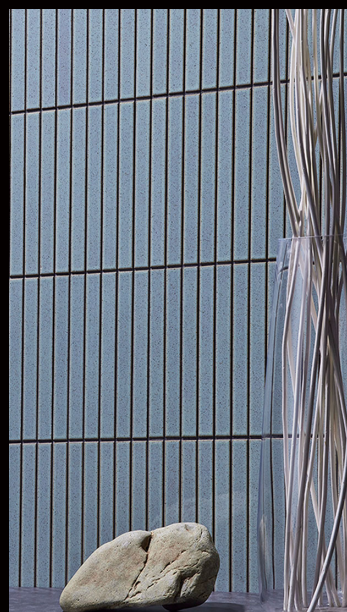

A unique presence! it's slightly larger shape

NAGI BORDER is 222mm long and 10mm thick. The longer length and thickness give it a unique presence.
